The Couch Gallery Crawl

By Thomas Benfield

9. Time to get on your Citi Bike and go for a field trip to Bushwick, where The Chimney has installed a commissioned work by Andrew Erdos for his exhibition “NOT FOR THE PEAK, BUT FOR THE MOUNTAIN.” The gallery itself is a trip – it’s a small freestanding brick garage in a parking lot on Morgan Ave. At the gallery’s center, viewable by appointment or here, is Erdos’s 12-foot tall and 12-foot wide glass mountain sculpture. It’s made from hundreds of layers of molten glass poured and hardened. It’s much more elaborate than that volcano you made for the fifth-grade science fair.
